

Full Name: Professor Dennis Yao Dzansi

Institution/Organisation: Central University of Technology (CUT), Free State

Based In (Country): South Africa

Professor Dennis Yao Dzansi is a Full Professor in Entrepreneurship and Head of the Department of Business Support Studies in the Faculty of Management Sciences, Central University of Technology (CUT), Free State, South Africa. He is heavily involved in entrepreneurship curriculum and skills development at CUT. He is a visiting professor at the Ho Technical University in Ghana and a member of the Association of Small Business and Entrepreneurship (ASBE).

Prof Dzansi, who holds a PhD in Entrepreneurship; MA in Higher Education Studies; and MBA, has taught entrepreneurship and supervised students' research work up to the doctoral levels in entrepreneurship. He is an external examiner and moderator of entrepreneurship courses and theses for several South African Universities. He has published several articles in academic journals. He is co-author of three scholarly books and the author of a chapter in a small business management book used by undergraduate students in South Africa.

